

Building Connections Week 1

Pastor Art Hunt

April 11-12, 2015

For David . . . served the purpose of God in his own generation . . .
Acts 13:36 (English Standard Version)

But my life is worth nothing to me unless I use it for finishing the work assigned me by the Lord Jesus . . . Acts 20:24 (New Living Translation)

Question #1: What does God have for us in the future; what is the next phase of “finishing the work assigned to us by the Lord Jesus”?

“Unless a church buys into the concept of change, they lose the capacity to be relevant to the culture they are trying to win for Christ.” Reggie Joiner

Staying Relevant to Achieve God’s Purposes

- Establishing discipleship as a key part of every believer’s life.
- Reaching out to win and mentor and support the next generation.
- Mobilizing each age group at Lighthouse to help them stay on mission.
- Helping everyone at Lighthouse to make the relational connections they need to support their spiritual and personal lives.

Question #2: How will a new ministry center help our congregation build connections more effectively?

A New Ministry Center Will . . .

- Provide the space for Lighthouse to have a “family night”.
- Give us room for ongoing adult classes where newcomers can quickly connect on the weekend.
- Supply a place for our youth to better connect.
- Give us more options for outreach to our community.
- Allow us to create a dedicated play area for children in our present facility.
- Make it much easier to connect between services.
- Give us the additional space needed to facilitate existing ministries.

Question #3: What will a new ministry center look like?

Question #4: What will it cost and how will we pay for it? (Dave Boyer)
